Creative use of quality concrete paving and edgings can add life, space and structure to your garden. Stowell products will transform both small and large gardens or give shape and structure to large scale landscaping.

The Stowell range of edging products provides the key to maintaining neat boundaries around a patio, lawn, pathway, flowerbed or drive.

Using concrete that is vibrated into specially developed moulds, Stowell wet cast edgings have a tough, smooth finish, built for durability and strength.

Stowell decorative concrete products are available in a range of attractive, mellow colours that will naturally complement any garden. Why not create different patterns by using a combination of shades?

The tables show both the sizes and colours available for the individual products introduced in this leaflet. While every effort is made to ensure that colours do not vary, complete consistency cannot always be guaranteed.
